Questions

1. Right now, people in your life desperately need to know that you love them as they are. Who are these people, and to the extent you feel comfortable in sharing about it, what are the issues preventing you from freely loving them?
2. Right now, you, too, desperately need to be loved. Maybe the woman you love has closed off her spirit to you or your child blames you for something. As far as it is up to you, how can you bring that relationship back to biblical love?
3. Which of the practical love-in-action ideas mentioned struck a chord with you? Why? Which ideas do you plan to implement?
